Sir,

Great news and I assure you that she will be fine and pain free by end of next week. Thanks for the 10 % discount. Its very kind of you. Also I have attached my red lined comments on the revised contract. Your call the other day was one of the kindest gestures anyone has ever made to me.

Dear and respected Friend,
Please accept my apology for responding late as I have been extremely busy with a closing which might happen tomorrow. Penny told me that she will never call Karl and will fight this case to the end. I tried to call Karl but he do not respond to me anymore. I agree with you your position of settling the case. In my opinion and experience "humility" has always prevailed over litigation.

Second: I'm taking the liberty of sending you this note I sent to Penny. Last night she emailed me asking if we could talk about Karl this morning. I said yes but have not heard from her. I don't know whether when you so kindly called over the weekend [REDACTED] that we discussed Penny. I don't think we did. But the day before you and I spoke I did speak to Penny whose laments about the Karl lawsuit are always the same. I suggested to her that, when there is disagreement, sometimes it is best for the principals to speak directly to each other to hear from the horse's mouth what the problems and issues are. She said she would call Karl. I don't know whether she did. What I do know is that the court rules require me to respond in writing to the motion Karl's lawyers made to dismiss her counterclaims about disparagement, etc. As of this moment, neither Penny nor Karl appears to be budging and unfortunately I have to put in the time to work on her papers. I'd prefer to see the case settle rather than continue to run up legal fees. I know there's nothing more you can do and Penny would probably be annoyed with me for letting you know this, so let's keep it between ourselves. I simply thought you should know.

Yes, and thanks again. By the way, I still believe the best course for al involved is a settlement, but I'm a litigator, not a settlement advocate. If, however, there is some basis for settlement, I'm open to hearing it. I think we have come a long way on that issue.

Karam, my friend.

I am with [REDACTED] Again, I hope you will be able to file the Notice of Appeal today. As you know, it is filed in the District Court via ecf. Ordinarily I attach the judgment entered in the clerk's office in the District Court as well as the opinion itself. The filing fee was raised to around 500. If you need my credit card info I will send you that.

If so, and I am certain we are although time is running, can you get the Notice of Appeal and any accompanying papers (I don't think there are any) filed in the District Court on Monday. I assume penny has no objection to this. I do not believe you need a substitution of counsel from me. I also know you are familiar with federal appeals.

Yet settlement agreements although prepared repeatedly have never been signed. It is a case that we all agree should be settled. Yet it has not been. Even if we were to lose Karl's pending motion to dismiss the counterclaims i asserted for penny, Karl is at least a year away from getting a judgment in his favor, if he ever gets it. It is a bizarre case and I had long ago hoped it would be resolved. Paul

Penny and Kashmir

I hope you're both well.

Two things:

As to Karl I've been hoping to hear that Karl will settle, as I thought Kashmir has anticipated. I've wanted to save you legal fees but next week I am required to prepare and file papers in opposition to Karl's lawyers' papers to dismiss Penny's counterclaims.

Second, I will initiate the appeal of the RICO case on Monday. We have plenty of time to do that but it must get done.

Have a great weekend. P
